

Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF

Hi, my name is Grace Collins. I used to go to Montessori Children's House in Providence and every year they would give out Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF boxes and they would match whatever the students collected on Halloween.

When I was in 1st grade, I wanted to do more for UNICEF. So my family and I came up with the idea to have a UNICEF Halloween party for kids and their parents at our family's business—The Wild Colonial Tavern. Last year, the party collected $1000 for UNICEF with a raffle and other donations. We raffled off a Product Red iPod Nano, a gift basket from the UNICEF store, and items donated by local businesses. UNICEF saves two million children a year with immunizations for diseases like measles, polio, and tuberculosis. UNICEF tries to get kids education. Some kids have to work all day long! You may not like school but I bet you like it a lot better than working! Kids also need food and clean water. UNICEF does that too. They put wells in places where families live so they can get clean water and they give kids the vitamins they need.

UNICEF tries to give kids a chance so they can grow up and have a better life. Maybe one of these kids will be the next Marie Curie or Gandhi or even Albert Einstein! A great big THANK YOU to everyone who helped us last year! This year we hope to raise $1,200. We hope to see you there in all your fantastic costumes!

HAPPY HALLOWEEN!
